Me and Mike.

This is the last issue of Volume No 6 which means that our charter members are "out". Let's see how many come in without coersion and renew. Mary Jones, of Oklahoma City, and J. M. Webb and Will Salmon of Grenada have already renewed.

Conner's headquarters made a hell of a bull this week, mailing a bunch of literature to Mr. Hurd Horton, who is Mr. Bailey's manager. Mr. Horton courteously brought the stuff—with the sacred Union Label on it—to me.

Why State candidates MUST have the sacred Union Label (which can be used by not more than half a dozen printers in the State) on their literature, and expect the country press to carry the free stuff, is one of those inscrutable things I am going to ask the Sphinx about the next time I am in Egypt.

Personally I throw away enough stuff eminating from various campaign headquarters each week to fill this newspaper. When the time comes when I and my wife, my daughter and my favorite correspondent can not fill a small weekly, I am going back to Oxberry. The various headquarters will save a lot of stamps by cutting the GCW off their mailing lists.

While I do not usually notice such things, I did notice several gals who were covered up part of the way down from the neck, then a skin or skin, then some more coverig up. I wonder if the preachers notice this type of attire.

Speaking of preachers, it must be grand to be a preacher, especially a preacher in a prosperous town, not a preacher who has to take his pay in eggs, roasting ears, molasses and corn meal.

Dear Andrew: did you get my postal card?

Saturday, a purchase of a two bit war stamp will entitle you to a ride in an army jeep.

Dear Bob Horton: thanks for the invitation. Let's try to arrange some Friday, after the election that's convenient for each of us.

White soldiers seem to be kept in a good state of discipline. Why can't the colored troops be commanded by men who can keep them in line?

Simon (Cpl.) Sardoff's old lady has been visiting him for several weeks. He seems as happy as two June bugs.

Maybe the war will last long enough for the USO to provide some adequate facilities for the soldiers here, but I hope not.

Several candidates are going to find out that there is a big bunch of liars in Grenada county.

Aint they sweet.

It's not too late to send absentee ballots to soldiers in the continental United States. See Charlie Worsham.

Mrs. Maud Willis has just returned from Hot Springs. Aint it grand to be rich.

Jim Horn, erstwhile manager of the Pix Theatre, is taking a month's rest, while Miss Mary Elizabeth McNeill is taking over the Pix. Aint it grand to be rich and take a vacation.

Just because I recently wrote that I saw a flat chested lady of the evening is no sign that all of them are flat chested.

Tom and Mary Meek are luxuriating up in the mountains of North Carolina which leads me to say, aint it grand to be rich.

When our neighbor, Mrs. Tony Marascalco, gets all of her children and grandchildren together she has quite a crowd.

Speaking of charter members—that is those individuas who began taking the GCW with the very FIRST issue—every dern one of you know you ARE a charter member, and I hope you will not make me go to the trouble of writing out and mailing a notice to you. It's too dern hot to do what I HAVE to do, much less do something that is wholly unnecessary. Let's see how many of you charter members will come in or send in and renew Better begin thinking up a lot of lies to swear to the grand jury for Circuit Court meets on the 26th, the 4th Monday.

Dennis Murphree Addressed Grenada County Voters

On Wednesday afternoon past in the public square Hon. Dennis Murphree, who had been introduced by Mrs. Estes Pleasants, spoke to (I hate to say it) the largest crowd that has yet heard a candidate for the governorship in Grenada county.

Mr. Murphree did not claim credit for the law of gravity or the law of diminishing returns or the law of supply and demand. He did not promise to make Mississippi a 100 percent Utopia, nor did he promise to bring the sea water to Grenada for us to have salt water fishing, nor did he indulge us wishful thinkers in the prospect of living without any work at all. However, he did claim credit for a good many things, and he did promise a good many things.

He could have delivered himself of his speech in half the time if he had not referred to "Me and Mike".

From the above it can be seen that the writer is about as good as Dennis in stating such truths as he wants to state, and omitting those he does not care to state.

The Stork Flew By And Left . . .

a little daughter, Carol Ann to Sgt. and Mrs. R. O. Bollinger, of Duck Hill, on July 1th.

a little daughter, Lucy Anna to Pfc. and Mrs. J. L. Murray, of Grenada, on July 19th.

a little daughter, named Ann, to Ensign and Mrs. Bill Fedric, of Norfork, Va., on Sunday night, July 18, 1943. Mrs. Fedric is the former Ann Neely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H Neely, Sr., of Grenada.

Andy Scruggs must have picked and sold a bunch of blackberries, for he came in, and paid up. He is one of Oxberry's main citizens.

Marshall Perry Made Head Of OPA Rent Area

Effective July 23 James M. (Marshall) Perry, Area Rent Attorney, will be placed in charge of the Grenada Area Rent Office. He will assume the duties of Rent Director in addition to his present duties as Rent Attorney.

Further changes in the office personnel will be announced later.

Mr. Perry issued the following statement:

"It is my aim and purpose to carry on the anti-inflation program which the Rent Control Division has initiated; give fair and friendly consideration to every landlord and tenant in this Area; place less emphasis on technicalities and more emphasis on common sense in working out rent adjustments; conduct the program on a broad basis and eliminate, as far as possible, "hardship" cases; correct, as far as possible, any inequities which may have been created since the program was initiated; and to regard rent control as a war time anti-inflation program and not as an experimentation in a modification of the American way."

Congress Recesses First Time Since 1939

By Congressman Thos. G. Abernethy
Fourth Mississippi District

On July 8th, after six and a half busy months, Congress recessed for the first time since 1939. Completing action on all pending legislation, Congress adopted an unprecedented resolution providing for adjournment until probably September 14, 1943, and also authorizing the President, the Vice-President and the Speaker of the House, or the Majority and Minority Leaders of both Houses to call the members back "whenever in their opinion legislative expediency shall warrant it." The recess was taken to give the members a brief rest and an opportunity to discuss with their constituents legislative matters.

During the seven months the 78th Congress has been in session there have been many major problems, but there has been no lack of cooperation on war measures. Since the session began in January, 1943, the Congress has appropriated some $115,000,000,000 for the conduct of the war and to continue operation of vital agencies on the home-front. The debt limit was raised to $210,000,000,000.

ALL-TIME RECORD FOR 1944 PLANTING

The War Food Administration set an all-time record goal of 380,000,000 crop acres for American farmers for 1944. The goal represents an increase of 16,000,000 acres over 1943 planting and exceeds by 3,000,000 acres the all-time planting record of 1932.

The wheat goal is 68,000,000 acres, 14,000,000 acres more than this year. In announcing the program, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones said WFA will continue its program to support prices, "to establish desirable price relationship at levels designed to bring the needed volume of production."

DRAFT

The President signed a bill providing for postponement of the induction of high school students who are called by Selective Service during the second half of their academic year.

ALLOTMENTS TOSOLDIERS' DEPENDENTS

Before the summer recess, the Senate passed a bill increasing allotments for dependent children of Army and Navy enlisted men. The measure will come before the House after the summer recess. Present allotments are $12 per month for the first child and $10 for each additional. Under the provisions of this bill, the allotments be raised to $18 for the first and $11 for others. Payments to a wife with no children would remain at $50. The bill would also slightly increase payments to dependent parents, grandgrandchildren, brothers and sisters. It is endorsed by the Army and Navy.

Branch Bank Established At Camp McCain

Last week, a "branch" bank, part of the Grenada Bank, was established in the headquarters area at Camp McCain with Mr. D. D. Crawford in charge.

Government checks and other checks known to be "good" are cashed there without exchange for the convenience of the officers and for members of the civilian personnel. Money orders are also cashed.

Paying exchange on government checks, while justified on account of the expense incurred by the banks, has been a "sore" spot with many of the people at the camp, and the establishment of this cashing and receiving station should go far toward creating more amicable relations between the personnel there and the people of Grenada.

The Grenada Bank, we understand has no hope of doing more than breaking even on the proposition and is to be congratulated on assuming a duty that should redound to better feeling between the civilian and the military personnel.

Mrs. W. H. Erwin Died In Jackson, Tenn.

Grenada friends learned with regret of the death of Mrs. W. H. Erwin, 69, of Grenada, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ed Holmes, in Jackson, Tenn., on Saturday, July 17, 1943. Mrs. Edwin sustained a stroke of paralysis a month ago, and her condition has been grave since that time. She has one daughter, Mrs. L. G. Wing, who lives in Grenada.

Mrs. Whitaker Answers Mr. Dennis Murphree

In Wednesday's Commercial Ap- on page 4 the following article from Cleveland, Miss. appears concerning Lt. Gov. Dennis Murphree and says that he voted to break a tie on tthe bill to create Delta State Teachers College at Cleveland.

Now this is what happened as recorded on page 949 in the 1924 issue of the Journal of the Senate:

"S. B. No. 263: An act to create and establish the Delta State Teachers College to qualify teachers for the public schools; to provide for the government thereof; to provide the location thereof and for other purposes touching the creation, organization and maintenance of said college

YEAS AND NAYS ON S. B. 263

On motion of Senator Zeller, the rules were suspended, the Bill considered and engrossed, read the third time, and , agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and the nays were taken and the bill passed, title standing as stated, by the following vote: Yeas, 27; Nays, 5.

Lt. Gov. did not vote. Any person who falsifies one incident will falsify others. Any candidate short sighted enough to think Mississippi people are dumb enough to take what they say without stirring up some reseasch, simply underestimate their intelligence. Mr. Murphree was mistaken. He did not break a tie. There was no tie to be broken. The vote was 27 for—5 against.

Relief In Sight For Those Needing Homes

At long last, some measure of relief is in sight for the thousands of individuals and families needing living quarters in this vicinity.

The Charter of Incorporation of Grenada Homes Inc., has been granted to the Johnson interests of Memphis, with Mr. Camp aready on the ground and the deed for the so-called Thomas pasture in hand.

Mr. Algenon Blair, Jr., of the famous old Atlante firm is here preparing to build 400 odd units opposite Camp McCain. It may be recalled that the elder Mr. Blair was the contractor on the Grenada postoffice and that his firm built most of the postoffices scattered throughout the South.

So far as our information goes, the proposal of building a number of units on the Hoffa property between Pecan Street the city limits) and Highway No. 8, in the southern part of Grenada is still in the the nebulous stage.

Ride In a Jeep By Buying a Two-Bit War Stamp

On Saturday, those who purchase a 25 cent war stamp will have the privilege of riding in an army "jeep", according to Mrs. E. L. Wilkins who has worked mighty hard to make the drive for funds for the mystery ship, the Shangri-La, a success in Grenada County.

By buying a stamp you do three important thing: you invest 25 cents safely, you help build the mystery ship which is destined to bomb Tokyo, and you have the rare experience of taking a ride in the army "jeep".

Southern officers should be used to command colored troops, otherwise, we may have trouble here.

And Nary a Drop Was Spilt Along the Way

A young Scottish couple had moved from their country cottage into a modern house. All their goods and chattels arrived safely—with exception of the rain tub.

After the wife had pleaded with her husband that this was an asset to her household, he said he would go and get it that evening.

As he had not arrived home at 12:30 a. m. his wife became worried. At 1:15 a. m. the back gate slammed and there was a dull thud. In a few seconds the door opened to reveal a dishevelled and perspiring man, who said:

"Ee, lass, 'A've 'ad job wit' toob. Thee didn't tell me it were full o' watter."

BIBLE TEACHINGS ON THE COST OF DRINKING

LESSON TEXT — Deuteronomy 21:18-21; Proverbs 23:20, 21; I Corinthians 6:9-11.

GOLDEN TEXT—Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God?—I Corinthians 6:9.

Billions of dollars—how many we cannot say—make up the annual cost of liquor to America in dollars and cents. Terrifying as it is, that stupendous waste is but a drop in the bucket compared with the moral and spiritual degradation, the sorrow and suffering, the poverty and distress, which must be added into our liquor bill.

For it is not only a matter of dollars, but of blood and tears, or destroyed usefulness, lost virtue, wrecked homes, and so on and on and on. We go right on paying the bill, allowing ourselves to be misled by clever propaganda, and skillfully manipulated statistics—or it may be our sheer indifference. When will America awaken!

Our lesson faces us with the cost of this despicable traffic in the life of the individual to the social order, and in the light of eternity.

I. The Personal Cost (Deut. 21: 18-21).

Liquor destroys individuals relentlessly, rapidly, and effectively. Have we forgotten that fact?

The passage in Deuteronomy presents a drastic remedy for a dreadful situation. Drink and gluttony were recognized as the deadly instrument which would bring a boy to the place where he was incorrigible. Stubborn, rebellious, and disobedient, his parents were to bring him to the elders for a final judgment.

If one thinks the penalty too harsh, he must remember that it was established in the early days of Israel when it was necessary for God to use such drastic remedies to stamp out incipient evil.

It must be remembered that in ancient Greece weak children were left out to die, and in Rome a father could at will put to death even a grown up son.

The point of this scripture for us is that a life of debauchery (and it can start with just a glass of wine) leads to the ultimate destruction of life. It is far too high a cost to pay for a sinful indulgence.

II. The Social Cost (Prov. 23: 20, 21).

Drunkenness and gluttony lead to poverty and rags. The intemperate man cannot keep up with the high cost of supplying his growing appetite. Even as he tries to satisfy its insatiable demand, it also renders him unfit to earn a living.

So the vicious circle works its way around, and stops not until the drunkard totters off in his rags, unless perchance some loved one or friend takes care of him.

Do we not all recall how families in our own communities have been ruined and become charges upon the county or charitable organizations because of the destruction wrought by a father who was a winebibber.

Not only does it bring poverty upon families, but it reduces able and gifted men to shambling wrecks and thus deprives society of the benefit of their lives and service.

A present-day illustration is the unsolved problem of absenteeism for days after pay day in our essential industries. Again we say the cost is altogether too high; let us get rid of this monster before it destroys us!

III. The Eternal Cost (I Cor. 6: 9-11).

Money lost is serious. Life lost is far more serious. But the saddest cost of all is the eternal damnation of the drinker's soul.

We quote from Dr. Horace Martin these stirring and meaningful words: "It is my calm judgment that any man who names the name of Christ should take an attitude of horror and disgust at the liquor traffic and the use of liquor as a beverage. There are at least three places in the New Testament where the Bible says that no drunkard shall inherit the kingdom of God.

"If any man takes that statement seriously he must think twice before he refers to the use of liquor in a joking manner, or in any way condones the use of alcohol as a beverage" (Lesson Commentary).

Drunkenness is a foul and sinful thing, classed by the apostle Paul with the lowest of human vices. Review the list as it is given in verses 9 and 10 (and by the way notice the other sins mentioned there), and place drunkenness in its proper classification.

Call it what it really is—sin, and then call on the One who can save from sin. You will then be washed from your sin, sanctified, and justified in the name of the Lord Jesus (v. 11). In Christ there is hope for the drunkard. A spiritual revival is the real answer to the liquor problem. Let us seek to promote it even as we at the same time give ourselves to an intelligent and constructive battle against this destructive force in the life of our nation.

Cleopatra Was Pioneer In Painting Fingernails

The flapper of not-so-many years back didn't start the vogue for painted fingernails. The real pioneer in that field was Cleopatra. Aspasia, girl friend of Pericles, also tinted her nails. As a matter of fact, a husband 2,300 years ago "raised Ned" with his wife because she used cosmetics so extravagantly.

Whoever it is that gets credit for scolding girls for powdering their noses in public, is just an interloper. Ovid said many centuries ago: "A statue is never shown until it is finished."

When Your Back Hurts

And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested for many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO HOME CANNERS

The Glass Top Seal Fruit Jar Cap for Home Canning was developed as a Wartime product to conserve metal. It consists of a Metal Band, Glass Lid and Rubber Ring.

Because of the difference in the nature of these three materials this Cap must be used differently from any other fruit jar cap. If used properly it will give excellent results. If not used properly, results will be bad, including failure to seal and breakage of jars. Following are simple instructions for use of the Glass Top Seal Cap and must be followed carefully.

1. Do NOT use in Oven Canning.
2. If processing, (cooking in jar), leave 1 inch space in top of jar. If using open kettle, leave ½ inch space in top of jar.
3. Fit rubber around projection on bottom side of lid.
4. Place lid so rubber lies between lid and top edge of jar.
5. Turn bands tight, then loosen slightly (about ¼ turn). Bands must fit loosely during processing (cooking). This is important and must be done to insure best results. If using Open Kettle, screw bands tight as soon as jar is filled.
6. After processing, screw bands tight to complete seal. Remove bands 12 hours after canning.

DO NOT TURN FILLED JARS UPSIDE DOWN

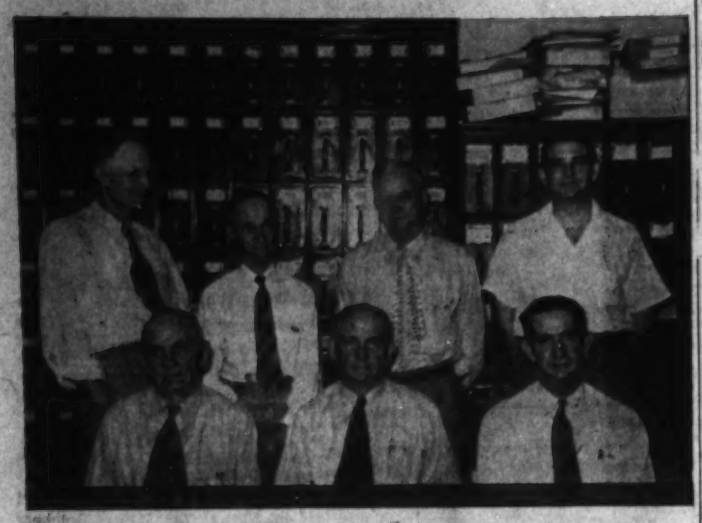
Supervisors' and Chancery Clerks' Organ Analyzes Grenada County Finances



The following article appeared in the latest issue of the offical monthly magazine of the State Supervisors and Chancery Clerks' Journal, and was written by its editor, Mr. T. P. Bond, who examined the olcial records to obtain the data:

Several pages could be devoted to a story on the accomplishments of the Board of Supervisors of Grenada County during recent years, however, the more important activities will be chronicled here in brief form.

While Camp McCain, south of Grenada, took 30,000 acres off the tax rolls of the county at a loss of $6,000 per annum to the treasury, Grenada Supervisors have been able to reduce the tax rate during the past four years approximately seven mills; reduced the bonded debt $150,000; has $20,000 in the general county fund now while, four years ago, only $4,500 was the balance; a total of the road and bridge funds stand at $47,000 compared to $6,300 four years ago.

Four hundred acres was provided by the county for a government air field; $40,000 worth of War Bonds were purchased from sixteenth section school funds during the past year; new road equipment added during the present administration raised the road equipment inventory by $14,000; supervisors aided in locating district offices of Forest Fire Protection and State Highway Patrol at Grenada. During the previous administration, a modern cold storage plant and agricultural office building were constructed at Grenada.

The county employs both white and colored home demonstration agents and maintains a full-time health department. Improvements to the courthouse at Grenada have been made during the present administration. A number of fine bridge structures have been constructed on links of the county road system and many small bridges have been replaced with permanent drainage structures. Relocations on many highways have been made while curves and other hazards have been eliminated during the past three and one-half years.

Supervisors of Grenada County, who have done an unusually fine job for the taxpayers, are D. A. Williams, District 3, president; G. E. Chamberlain, District 2; J. B. Strider, District 4; J. L. Elliott, District 5; L. P. Horton, District 1. Chancery Clerk John Prestgrove has rendered able assistance to the Board and taken a conspicuous part in the accomplishments of the Board, as well as has S. C. Mims, Attorney for the Board.

CLOSED A WHILE

A FEW Standard Oil Service Stations are "boarded up." Pumps are empty, drives vacant... the boys have gone to war.

Wherever such a scene of inaction may have replaced the busy corner of a short time ago, accept it as evidence that many men of this Company have changed their uniforms for a while.

Not far away you will find another Standard Oil Station—open, busy, trustworthy—worth going an extra distance to find. If not all Stations in your locality can overcome the "man-power" question, please understand that we strive to keep standards high—too high to permit indifferent operation.

Soon, we hope, conditions will favor and make possible old-time operation. Until then let the Station that is "closed for a while" be a signal to you that Standard Oil men are in the thick of the fight.

T. J. LOWRY

To The Voters of North Mississippi:

We, the undersigned merchants, business and professional men and officials of Houston, Chickasaw County, Mississippi, take this method of commending Honorable T. J. Lowry to you for re-election as Highway Commissioner for the Northern District of Mississippi.

Many of us have lived as fellow townsmen of Mr. Lowry for a number of years, and others have grown up with him. We know him to be a good Christian man and a leading citizen of Houston and Chickasaw County. We also know that he has been honest and honorable in his private as well as public life, and we believe that he has served the people of this district capably, and efficiently, and economically as Highway Commissioner.

War was declared during the second year of Mr. Lowry's term and, at the request of the War Department, all road construction except that in connection with Military or defense projects was stopped. Since that time T. J. Lowry has done everything within his power to cooperate in furthering the War effort. We know that he has a high sense of patriotism and would not use any materials in building roads or bridges that were needed in the prosecution of this grave War. His only son is serving in the armed forces of our Country.

We trust that you good, patriotic people of North Mississippi will say that T. J. Lowry has served well during his first term under most trying and abnormal conditions and that he is entitled to an endorsement term in line with our age-old democratic custom.

We ask of you that on August 3, you vote to: "RE-ELECT T. J. LOWRY AND HELP PAVE THE ROAD TO VICTORY."

Just For Fun

Civilians are a drug and a class unclean to the soldier-waiters at the Officers' Mess at the Base. One private herds them together carefuly and instructs them not to sit with the military personnel.

But seriously, the enlisted personnel at the Base are very helpful. Sgt. Sirocco, one of the NCO's in charge of the gate, is very conscientious, but still courteous.

Now to jump back to civilian personnel at the Base, Mrs. Miller, who works at the Base, and her husband, Pvt. Miller, in the Signal Corps at McCain, have taken a little hard earned vacation to their Indiana home this week.

Just returned from a quick trip to his native Louisville, Ky., is Lt. Snider, OE, at the Air Base. It's rumored that he had but fifteen cents left to lend a friend.

Still on the vacation angle today, Miss Pauline Thompson, of Jersey Citty, N. J., is visiting the Wades in Grenada for a couple of weeks. According to Pauline, it isn't any hotter in Grenada than in the East now, which should be a relief to some. She and Caroline Whitaker spent Wednesday afternoon at the Hospital, visiting Cpl. Whyte Whitaker, Jr., in the Surgery Ward. Whyte is expecting to be transferred to a genral hospital this week, for further observation and work on his leg. It is really warm in some of the wards there, even with ventilating fans or little ones.

The heat isn't bothering one Infantry Lieutenant as much as ants, little, crawling, stinging ones. It seems that the good officer left his pants over the chair one night and jumped into them the next morning without due inspection. Records show that the out-jump was quicker than the in.

Then there's the 346th Dinner-Dance Saturday night. A small soldier-orchestra played old waltzes the first courses of the fine dinner, which included baked turkey and pineapple pie ala mode, and old populth numbers the last courses.

General Clarkson was the guest of honor at the dinner, as well as several other officers.

After the dance several officers did a little impromptu entertaining at the small piano, with a little vocalizing on the polkas.

INVASION

The Yanks art coming.
And Hitler's on the run.
The "New Regime" is fading,
Benito's day is almost done.

Italian kids are laughing;
They make the "V" sign with their hands.
The banks of Sicily are ravished;
Thank God, the Yanks are in command.

The famine now is fleeting;
The light of hope is born anew.
Italian folk are greeting
The loved Red, White and Blue.

GRENADA COUNTY LIBRARY

Calling all citizens! Additional aid must be obtained for Grenada County Library, or else!

The 1943 budget of $1250 from the city and county funds provided for one salary and $500 book fund. The library was then getting the help of eight government paid workers and travel for county book distribution—totaling about $480.00 per month. This was discontinued in March, 1943. The library board then decided to use the book fund available through the summer to pay an assistant. Consequently the book supply has been small and this cannot continu, because a library without fresh books is likt a stagnant stream.

There have been about 1000 new borrowers registered in the year. These people are used to good library service and the demands fo better material have bten heaby. The camp libraries are not open to soldiers' families nor do they carry material suited to civilian reading. Camp McCain and the Air Base have both made calls on this library for material not available at their posts.

What are you as a citizen going to do about it? Is it going to be another question of "too little too late?" Are you going to see your representatives our city and county board and let it know you are interested? Every educational institution which is curtailed or closed marks a red letter day for Hitler.

Theodore Roosevelt once said "After the church and the school, the public library is the most effective influence for good in America. The moral, mental and material benefits to be derived from a carefully selected collection of good books, free for the use of al the people, cannot be over estimated. No community can afford to go without a library."

Some time when you are passing through Grenada County, stop over and find out what the Hell is wrong.

"Manpower at home is essential to support fighting-power overseas" . . . E. G. Grace, president, Bethlehem Steel

Thousands of men arriving for work in a Bethlehem shipyard. Down this yard's busy shipways slide many of the nation's cruisers, destroyers and aircraft carriers. Bethlehem repeatedly has made records for delivering vessels well ahead of schedule.

This is the story of manpower in Bethlehem steel mills and shipyards, of men and women who have come by the thousands from all walks of life to do a job in backing up our fighting forces with a continuous flood of materials. These men and women are vital to the battle of production.

Manpower at Bethlehem Steel has been multiplied three times in three and a half years. Here are the figures:

NUMBER OF BETHLEHEM EMPLOYEES
Poland invaded, September 1939 ..100,000
Fall of France, summer 1940.....120,000
Pearl Harbor, December 1941....190,000
Tunisia, May 1943.....290,000

Facts About Bethlehem Workers

Manpower is the heart of Bethlehem's current production of a ship a day. Manpower makes possible the meeting of its large commitments for ordnance and other war-steel products. All other problems such as materials and supplies are secondary — the essential dependence is on manpower.

Thousands of men from non-essential trades are joining Bethlehem war-work armies.

More than 13,000 women are employed at Bethlehem plants and shipyards, and the number is constantly increasing.

Veteran employees are zealously teaching the newcomers, so that they can quickly handle their appointed tasks.

New employees earn while they learn, in special training classes and in on-the-job training.

Sympathetic study of each person's abilities puts "square pegs in square holes."

Wages are the highest in the history of shipbuilding and steel, and in the top group of all industries.

Promotion is rapid, as opportunity to advance comes far more swiftly than under normal conditions.

Bethlehem employees are friendly, high-grade people. The great majority have education in the high school grades, and thousands are graduates of colleges, crafts and professions.

More than 50,000 Bethlehem employees are now serving in the armed forces, a fact which gives added seriousness of purpose to those working to produce the supplies.

To work in Bethlehem shipyards and plants is to be in the front line of industry, doing a real job to help win the war.

Employment in Bethlehem's shipbuilding and ship repair yards alone has grown from 15,000 in 1939, to nearly 180,000.

The enlistment in our manpower army continues from week to week and from month to month. The total of Bethlehem employees will exceed 300,000 by the end of the year. To reach this total force, and provide for replacements of those going into the armed services and others, many thousands more men and women will be hired.

FROM ALL OCCUPATIONS

Bethlehem workers come from virtually every walk of life to serve in these war-work armies. Here are 60 instances of former occupations of men and women who are now producing ships and combat materials.

Closing Our Sixth Year

This issue of the GCW marks the end of our sixth year of publication. Incidentally it marks the time when the several hundred "charter members"—the individuals who have received every copy of the GCW—are due to pay up again.

We are indeed grateful for the continued patronage and confidence of our many readers, and our few advertisers. We are proud that the GCW appeared to be so welcome in the homes that, when the exigencies of the situation demanded it, we raised our subscription rates, and did not lose ONE subscriber on account of the increase. We are proud that, when costs continued to increase and revenue from advertising continued to decrease, we did not lose an advertiser when, on January 1 last, we raised our advertising rates. People, knowing their own problems, appreciated the problems that confronted us. We are proud that, when we cut off a delinquent, he takes it good naturedly. We are proud that a majority of our subscribers have, at long last, learned that the little numerals, "8-43", "4-43", etc. mean respectively that the subscription expires in August, 1943 and April, 1943.

In many of the things that we have advocated, we have made no dent in those who took opposite views; yet, if the reader will take the trouble to explore our record, he will see that we have seen the fruitation of many of our ideas. On more than one occasion this newspaper has, without any prodding, admitted that it was wrong.

The GCW adopted as its slogan, "Grenada County News, a Specialty; other news used only in emergencies", and has lived up to that slogan religiously. It has not sought to invade the field of the radio and of the daily press—both of which are far more capabe of handling such matters. As long as the present editor controls this newspaper, the policy will be the same. We believe that no institution on earth—in this ever-changing sense—occupies a safer place than the community newspaper which has no potential competition. We prefer to publish ONE picture of a Grenada county baby or soldier than one hundred views of the Russian Front, the inside of the auto plant, or the crowning of a king in some country whose location our readers have very vague ideas about. We prefer to chronicle the tale of the big watermelon that our friend in Pleasant Grove raised than to use space in telling of the inauguration of a new President. Our field is definitely the "home front," and we propose to keep it that way.

With, we hope, due modestly, we say that we have ardent readers who never saw the South, much less Mississippi or Grenada. We believe that the GCW has been instrumental in bringing Grenada to the attention of many people who, otherwise, would never have heard of this city.

Believing that, if you do not have respect for your own business and your own price schedules, you can not expect others to have respect for them, we have absolutely FIXED prices. To prove the rule, we have one exception, a Confederate widow, who pays us $1.00 a year subscription. ALL others pay either $2.00 or $2.50. We established an advertising rate (since raised) when we starter this paper, and NEVER have made an exception, even tho in the beginning, we almost sank. Cutting prices, and having one price for and another price for another are just slow—but sure—ways of diggin? pits for yourself to fall into.

In closing this, our sixth year, we wish to express our deep appreciation to those who have stayed with us, and we pledge them that we shall seek to continue to publish a newspaper that will do credit to Grenada. What more can be said?

Your Home Town Newspaper

The following editorial (in which we took the liberty of changing "Nebraska" to "Mississippi," appeared in the Omaha World-Herald:

A Hit Dog Howls

Dinner$ Murfy in his speech in the square last Wednesday devoted a good deal of attention to the "GCW" and to "Old Whit."

I always heard that a hit dog howls. Maybe that was the reason that Dinner$e howled so much about Me and Mike.

Conner Has The Vital Difference

Grenada people have had the opportunity to hear three of the four candidates for Governor. If they analyze the speeches, the promises and the platforms of each, they might easily conclude that one man wrote ALL the platforms. There is little difference in any of the platforms. All want to help the school teachers; in fact, there is no important variance in any of the three platforms.

But Conner has the vital difference. He has had SUCCESSFUL EXPERIENCE in the office they all seek. Mike Conner is a farmer, owning considerable acreage, inherited from his father, at Seminary. He looks after this farm personally. As for pensions, Mike Conner was the FIRST governor who gave the old folks ANYTHING. It was his administration—a business administration, not a political administration—that permitted teachers to be paid, not the salaries that their faithful work entitled them to, but salaries in keeping with the available money.

Conner favors extension of the homestead exemption. From what kind of administration have we the MOST hope of receiving further exemption—a business administration, or a political adminstration?

Some of Conner's worst enemies are those who still cuss him about the sales tax, the back log of Mississippi's ability to help home-owners, old folks, teachers and the hospitals. In 1935 and in 1929, most candidates promised to abolish the sales tax. Remember this: that promise seems to have gone out of fashion, for NOT ONE of his present opponents even mention the sales tax.

Alf Stone is an internationally known expert on tax matters. Conner promised the people in his audience at Seminary (and not Alf Stone personally, therefore not breaking his Corrupt Practice Act, as Murphree charges) that, if elected, he would reappoint Mr. Stone. WHAT ARE THE OTHERS GOING TO DO ABOUT MR. STONE, SHOULD CONNER BE DEFEATED? Silence, deep and dolorous.

The revenue system of the Conner administration is intact after nearly 12 years. In spite of the fact that both Governor White and Governor Johnson obtained permission to increase the number of members of the committee which controlled the institutions of higher learning, and, by so doing, did gain control of this body, NOT ONE head of a state institution that Conner's original board appointed has been removed. Twelve years have vindicated the soundness of Conner's judgment.

Bilbo says that the sales tax was his "baby". Maybe it is, but he did not have influence enough with the legislature to bring it into existence. Conner did inspire confidence in the members of the law-making groups, and, therefore, was able to institute the reforms that he advocated. No, Conner did not do it all by any means. He was just man enough to obtain the aid and enlist the support of the men in the legislative branches. "I" did not kill the bear. "We" killed the bear.

The glaring difference between Conner and his opponents are: his successful experience in the office he seeks; and his ability to work "with" the legislature, not by patronage but by sense and logic.

Unnecessary Expense

In my opinion, the expense of the county agent is an unnecessary expense on the taxpayers of this county.

Back in the more or less normal times of 1928, I, as a member of the board of supervisors, was the man who took the lead in abolishing the office, for I then thought that the position was not necessary. A farmer does not need anyone to tell him what to do. He can drink an extra cup of coffee any night and remain awake long enough to think up more than he could possibly do in an entire lifetime. But, anyway, when this damphool AAA was started, it was necessary for somebody to be in Grenada to act for the government in the various programs. At that time, as editor of the paper, I heartily advocated the reestablishment of the office of the county agent who, at that stage, was the man who represented the government. The picture has again changed. Those dealing with the AAA have to deal with another man—the Administrative Assistant—and the county agent apparently has nothing to do with the damphool AAA programs. In short, the county agent's duties, if they can be called such, are the same as they were in 1928, when I was the spearhead in abolishing the office.

The board of supervisors has made a wonderful record in reducing the debt of the county, no doubt hoping that, when the buble busts, Grenada County will be entirely out of debt. The board, by abolishing a useless office can reduce the expenses of the county by $1,800 (plus extra expenses), or at least 1/3 of a mill.

If the board, in its judgment, decides to have a county agent, Mr. Cooley suits me as well as any of them, but I do not think the county needs a county agent at all.

It is socialism pure and simple for me, a newspaper owner, to help pay a man to cut the boar shoats of some fellow in Beat Two; and it is pure socialism for a hog raiser in Beat Four to help pay a man to prune or graft pecan trees in Beat Three. And it is socialism pure and simple for a poultryman in Beat One to help pay for treating cattle in Beat Five. Does the county pay a doctor to treat a sick CHILD in Beat Five? Does the county pay to have an infected tooth of a man from Beat Three extracted It is obviously not the duty of the whole people (the county) to pay for human ailments; then why is it the duty of the whole people (the county) to pay for cutting pigs, vaccinating hogs and cattle and pruning and grafting trees If the county agent does anything except the things mentioned, I would be glad to hear what other things he does.

Muffing Great Opportunities

Many of our businessmen who are charging outrageous prices and giving poor service on often poor merchandise, are muffing the greatest opportunity they ever will have to recapture the trade in Grenada's legitimate territory. If they would cater a little more to the folks in Grenada, the folks from Calhoun and the folks from... say, Torrance, and a little less attention to the people who are here today and gone tomorrow, they could "dig in" against the day when all of this easy money has vanished.

What would happen to the Grenada County Weekly if it filled its columns with news of the camp, news of this and news of that temporary alphabetical organisation, and quit mentioning the marriages of our local people, the deaths and births of the community and the simple, homely things that go to make up a small community? Why, we would go plum to hell BEFORE the camp left. Our policy is to give first consideration to the people and the institutions that permitted us to get started and to make some little progress. We think a hel of a lot more of either of our many charter members than we do of the Division Commander of the 87th Division, not that we dislike him; but the Division Commander is here for a brief stay, while our charter members, and their children and grandchildren will be here as long as I live, and as long as my children and grandchildren (I have only one) will be here.

What applies to the Grenada County Weekly applies equally to each and every business in Grenada. With restrictions on driving many Grenada people who never traded here before, now trade at home, and, if given the consideration they deserve, will form a new buying habit of trading in Grenada. But if they are not treated with proper courtesy and consideration, they will start back to Memphis, Jackson and Greenwood, just as soon as tire and gasoline restrictions are removed.

Then too, we have men from every state in the Union in the military camps. If we would exert ourselves to treat them with proper courtesy, we would have 50,000 men, scattered from Main to California who, when Grenada was mentioned, would say, "Yes, I was there. It is a swell town." Unhappily, most of these men will say as I said of Pineville, Louisiana (where I lived during the last war," "The only reason I will ever stop in that damn town is that I have a flat tire."

Yes, Grenada has wonderful opportunities, and Grenada is absolutely muffing most of them. Talking about the ghost towns of the mined-out places in the West, Grenada is likely to be such a town unless our businessmen cultivate more assiduously the people in Grenada and the people in Grenada's legitimate trade territory. We will fall with a dull thud when the military establishments are removed. Our golden opportunities to prepare for that inevitable fall will have vanished foever.

Confucius said it: "Do not forget the humble way you arose."

Buy Back Our Bonds

I am sorry to admit that I do not know how many, if any of the county and district bonds owed by this county and its districts are "callable."

But if there are any considerable amount of callable bonds outstanding, I believe it would be a darn good idea for the board of supervisors to increase the taxes at this budget-making time to buy back every dern bond that is callable.

It is good policy, which many people are following, of paying off debts before they become due, while times are good and when money is cheap and plentiful. What is good policy for an astute individual is good policy for an astute county.

The county records will show that, back about fifty or sixty years ago, the county was obligated for what was then an immense sum for aid in building the never-built railroad eastward from Grenada. The record shows that the board of supervisors then serving took the bits in its mouth, levied the necessary taxes to pay the obligation off and be done with it. What was good policy then is good policy now.

The best time to pay debts, as Chuck Trotter says, is when you have the money. The best "paper" to buy, according to Henry Ray, is your own "paper."

The Cold Storage (?) Plant

The county has a considerable investment in a cold storage plant here in Grenada. Many citizens throughout the area have equities of $10.00 or more in this plant.

The plant is not being used as a cold-storage plant, but as a sales room for the sale of fertilier, seed and feed. People of Grenada county have to take their meat and perishible vegetable products to Charleston or elsewhere to have them cared for.

This is the almost outrageous and inexcusable misuse of public funds and public confidence that we know of.

The products being sold from this publicly-owned building are sold in direct competition wth merchants who apy sales taxes ad valorem taxes, privilege taxes and income taxes. The coops are exempt from most, if not all taxes.

It seems to me that, if there ever was a time when every pound of meat and every pound of perishible vegetable products should be preserved against loss, it is now when the whole world is facing hunger and starvation.

The idea of the plant was for the farmer to be able to kill his hogs and preserve the meat even in August, and save the feed necessary to "carry" the hog on corn several months until propitious weather conditions came.

It is high time that the board of supervisors which, in the name of Grenada County, has an equity in this property, sees that it is used for the purpose for which it was built; or, rent it out for a sufficient sum to pay for the interest on the investment. I have been told, and I hope it is true, that the supervisors are going to take some definite action shortly.

The sooner the better.

If Dinner$ does not pay any more attention to the laws of Mississippi if elected (which, God forbid) than he does to the postal laws (as interpreted by the local postmaster) we will have anarcy in Mississippi six months after the calamity happens. According to the ruling of our own postmaster, Dinner$ is flagrantly breaking the postal laws in sending out about 30,000 copies of his sheet each week to non-subscribers. I even heard (but am not stating this as a fact) that the papers are not even mailed in Sumner, but in Jackson.

Brother Blake, who is a big buddy of Major Waite, dropped in recently to see how we were getting along They are dern good listeners, but are quite reticent about giving out any dope.

The Public Record

Of Each Candidate For Governor On The Following Topics:

1. RESTORING THE STATE'S CREDIT.

The friends of Mr. Conner attempt to give him credit for "restoring the state's credit" while Governor, and "balancing the budget," and further attempt to give him credit for the passage of the Sales Tax Law.

The record shows that the reverse is true.

Mr. Conner disclaimed responsibility for, and did not endorse the sales tax idea, in the following language he used in a message to the Legislature on March 23, 1932, recorded in the 1932 House Journal, on page 501:

"The proposed sales tax bill is already a law of this state, and has been since 1928. * * * The sales tax bill * * * is almost identical with the present law, save only as to the matter of rates. * * * I neithtr invented the sales tax idea nor had any part in writing it into law as it now stands."

The truth is that Mr. Conner even asked the Legislature to REPEAL THE SALES TAX ACT during the Extra Session of 1933 while he was making so many recommendations to the Legislature to be used as ground work for the campaign which he then planned to make against the late Senator Pat Harrison for the United States Senate. We quote his exact language, found in Conner's message to the Legislature, Extra Session of 1933, in the 1933 House Journal, page 102:

"I hereby submit for your consideration the repeal of the Emergency Revenue Act of 1934, imposing what is known as the sales tax."

Dennis Murphree, the record shows, was at cross-purposes with Mr. Conner throughout his administration as Governor, and worked to block bills that Mr. Conner's administration leaders were interested in.

Lester Franklin had no official connection with the state government at all and, of course, does not claim any credit for restoring the state's credit or for balancing the budget.

The record shows that Tom Bailey is entitled to the credit for balancing the budget and restoring the state's credit during the period 1932-1936, because as Speaker of the House of Representatives, he aided in the passing of revenue laws and appropriation bills that balanced the budget. All on earth that Mr. Conner did was to sign the bills after Tom Bailty and other legislative leaders had passed them by the House of Representatives, and after the Senate had acted upon them.

2. HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

Under the Homestead Exemption Act of 1938 every homestead in Mississippi up to 160 acres in area, and up to $5,000 assessed value is exempt from the payment of all governmental maintenance taxes. Under that act, all that a home-owner now pays is only enough taxes to retire bond issues which the people in the counties and taxing districts voted on themselves. Tax levies to retire bonds could not be exempt under our constitution. In five years that act has saved Mississippi home-owners more than 1 millions of dollars in taxes. (Figures supplied by State Tax Commission.

Nowhere in the official records of this state can you find where Mr. Conner, Mr. Murphree or Mr. Franklin were ever officially connected with passing thorugh the Legislature any Homestead Exemption Act granting relief from legal maintenance tax levies. Tom Bailey is the only candidate for governor that helped write and pass this law through the Legislature. This law has saved thousands of homes of the people from being sold on the auction block for non-payment of taxes. (See House Journal of 1938, and Chapters 16, 18 and 19, Laws of 1938, Extra Session.)

The truth is that if Tom Bailey had been so foolish as to have followed Mr. Conner's recommendation to repeal the tax laws that produced the revenue, not a single home-owner would have had, or could have had their homestead exemption benefits, for the simple reason that the State Treasury would not have had the money in it to reimburse counties and local taxing districts the revenue to make homestead exemption possible and practical.

3. OLD AGE PENSIONS

Chapter 175, of the Laws of 1936, created the first state-wide old age assistance, blind assistance, and aid to dependent children programs in the history of the state. Under that act, state funds are matched by federal funds, and approximately 16 millions of dollars have been spent to grant needed assistance to these people. The 1936 House Journal shows that Tom Bailey helped pass that law.

Nowhere can you find in the public record where either Mr. Conner, Mr. Murphree or Mr. Franklin had any part in passing this humane legislation.

Mike Conner did "recommend" aid to the needy aged during the 1936 Session, just before he launched his campaign for the United States Senate against Pat Harrison. BUT, in the very next breath, in the language quoted above, Mike Conner asked Tom Bailey and the other members of the Legislature to REPEAL the revenue act that has made old age assistance possible, and without which old age assistance would have been impossible.

Tom Bailey has been and is the best friend that the old people have in the race for Governor.

4. PUBLIC SCHOOLS

During the 1938 Session of the State Legislature, Tom Bailey helped write and pass laws that guaranteed every white child in the state an eight months school term. He helped provide school teachers a small, though a much-needed increase in teachers' salaries. Tom Bailey helped pass budget laws that modernized and improved the administration of school funds. The school teachers, trustees and patrons can search the official records for themselves and they will find that at no time during the twenty-five years Mr. Conner, Mr. Murphree and Mr. Franklin have been in public life that they have helped write and pass laws rendering such aid to the common schools. Of course, many state politicians haveadvocated it on the stump, as a vote-getting device, but records show that Tom Bailey is the only candidate for Governor at this time who actually helped "deliver the goods." (See Chapters 39, 236 and 238, Laws of 1938, and House Journals of 1938). "By their fruits ye shall know them."

5. PAVED HIGHWAYS

The people well know that so long as Mr. Conner was Governor and Mr. Murphree Lt. Governor they were in a bitter controversy over how and by whom a state highway paving program would be handled. Mr. Conner would veto road paving bills Mr. Murphree was intrested in, and Mr. Murphree would help block highway bills in the Senate that Mr. Conner was interested in. The result was that so long as either one of them had any connection with the state government, Mississippians rode on mud, dust, dirt and gravel. (See House and Senate Journals 1932, 1934 and 1935). It was not until 1936, when neither Mr. Conner nor Mr. Murphree was connected with the state government at all that Mississippi obtained the most modern system of paved highways of any state in the nation. Mississippi now has approximately 3,000 miles of paved highways, built without any suspicion of graft or corruption. The House Journals show that Tom Bailey helped write and pass through the House the laws that gave Mississippi this modern system of highways, without increasing taxes on the people one dime. The law simply earmarked a portion of the existing gasoline taxes to repay bonds floated to build highways. (See Chapters 182 and 190, Laws of 1936; Chapters 130 and 190, Laws of 1938). Besides that, the Federal Government gave the State of Mississippi $45 out of every $100 spent for road-paving purposes.

In the face of the record, can't the farmers better expect a system of farm-to-market roads from Tom Bailey than they can from either Mr. Conner or Mr. Murphree

6. RURAL ELECTRIFICATION

The manifold blessings that flow from electricity are now enjoyed by many farmers, due to the creation by the state of the Rural Electrification Authority. Did you know that Tom Bailey is the only candidate for Governor that helped vote for and pass this beneficial legislation through the Legislature, for the benefit of the farmers? You can search the public records, and no where will you find where either Mr. Conner, Mr. Murphree, or Mr. Franklin had anything officially to do with the passing of the law which made rural electrification possible throughout the State of Mississippi.

CONCLUSION

We could go on indefinitely, but what is the use? All of the other candidates concede that "Tom Bailey is a good man," and the public record shows that every constructive piece of legislation that has advanced the welfare of the state during his twenty-four years service has been due, partly, to the efforts and the influence of Tom Bailey. CAN ANY MAN BE TOO GOOD TO BE GOVERNOR OF MISSISSIPPI. Tom Bailey is free!! No special-privilege-seeker has any strings tied to him.

Cautions for Home Canners

Housewives doing home canning with wartime jar caps are cautioned to follow implicitly the instructions of the cap manufacturers if they wish to avoid unhappy experiences and waste in their patriotic effort to conserve. Spoilage of food and breakage of jars is certain to result, if instructions are not followed to the letter.

Proper methods and careful canning will insure excellent results, more important in the present food situation than at any other time.

The Glass-Top Seal Fruit Jar Cap, a wartime product developed to conserve metal, requires careful use, according to the home service departments of fruit jar manufacturers. This cap consists of a metal band, glass lid and rubber ring. With these three widely varied materials making up its component parts, the cap must be used according to important but easily followed instructions. First of all, the cap is not recommended for, and must not be used in, oven canning.

If the food is processed (cooked in a jar), one inch of space must be left in the top of the jar when filled, in order to allow room for expansion. If an open kettle is used a half-inch of space must be left in the top of the jar.

The next step is to place the rubber around the projection on the bottom side of the lid, and the lid must then be placed so that the rubber lies between it and the top edge of the jar. All jars on which top-seal closures, either glass or metal, are used must have smooth-top edges.

The band is then applied tightly and immediately loosened slightly about one-quarter of a turn. Bands must fit loosely during the processing or cooking. If an open kettle is used, the bands are to be screwed tight as soon as the jar is filled. After the processing is completed the bands are screwed tight to complete the seal. The bands may be removed twelve hours after the canning operation. At no time should the filled jars be turned up-side-down.

The housewife who takes no chances on variance from any one of these simple but important steps is assured of success and the enjoyment of the delicious flavor of home canned foods this winter.—Adv.

Furious Tank Battles Rage in Russia As Nazis Seek to Encircle Red Army; Farm Income Increased by Two Billion; Allied Victories Threaten Jap Bases

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

For meritorious work as commander and military governor of the Territory of Hawaii during the critical period after Pearl Harbor, Lieut.-Gen. Delos Emmons (extreme right) receives Distinguished Service medal from Secretary of War Henry Stimson (at extreme left). Brig.-Gen. H. B. Lewis (center) attended the ceremonies.

RUSSIA:
Blitz Again

Seeking to wipe out the big Russian bulge on the central front, 500,000 German soldiers continued their attacks at both ends of the bulge, with the objective of encircling the huge Red army from the rear.

At the southern extremity of the bulge near Belgorod, the Reds admitted that the Nazis had scored early gains. According to the Russians, the Germans were backing up their forces with masses of tanks and airplanes. In action was a new tank, bigger than the 60-ton Mark VI.

From dispatches, the battle assumed the old lines of German blitzkreig. The Nazis concentrated their strength at certain points and then threw their whole weight against them. As their forces streamed through, the Russians moved to pinch off the tanks and infantry and isolate them from the main armies.

Although claiming success, the Germans said that the huge bulge still extended 85 miles to the west.

CONGRESS:
Adjourns for Recess

Capping its hectic deliberations with an agreement to give President Roosevelt a free hand in reducing retail food costs through subsidies, the 78th congress recessed for a summer vacation.

The session saw passage of notable legislation. For the first time, taxpayers were put on a current basis with the enactment of pay-as-you-go legislation. Approximately 130 billion dollars was appropriated.

The administration's authority to make lend-lease and reciprocal trade agreements was renewed, and permission was given for use of 2 billion dollars to stabilize foreign currencies.

President Roosevelt's limitation of wartime salaries to $25,000 was repealed. Spurred by the walkout of the nation's coal miners, anti-strike legislation was passed over a presidential veto. Although both houses took favorable action on the Commodity Credit corporation and agricultural department bills, they killed a senate proposal to raise the ceiling on corn to $1.40, and also voted to abolish crop insurance.

PACIFIC ADVANCE:
On 700 Mile Front

The languorous islands of the Southwest Pacific know peace no more.

Along a great arc of 700 miles, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's offensive continues to rage, with American troops menacing the Jap air base of Munda in the Solomons, and Allied troops pressing against Salamaua in New Guinea from three sides.

Trapped in the narrow Kula gulf, eight Japanese warships were reported sunk, sent to the bottom by a thunderous broadside from U. S. naval vessels.

By making two landings on New Georgia island, American troops closed in on Munda from the north and east. Finished by the Japs last December, this air base would give Allied fighters and bombers a springboard for attacking the great enemy naval and airplane center of Rabaul, between the Solomons and New Guinea.

Strafed and bombed by Allied airmen, Jap troops gave ground before advancing columns in the area south of Salamaua.

FARM INCOME:
Up by 2 Billion

Bolstered by a 36 per cent increase from marketing, farm income for the first five months of 1943 was up two billion dollars over last year.

Total income amounted to $6,788,000,000. Of this, $6,412,000,000 was gotten from marketing, while $376,000,000 was obtained in government payments.

The big increase from marketing was attributed to the larger returns from oil-bearing crops, tobacco, poultry and eggs. Substantial gains also were reported for all commodity groups.

The nation's heavy year-round demand for food was reflected in figures which showed that the increase in income from April to May was less than seasonal. Small increases resulted from marketing of vegetables, fruits and nuts and dairy products, among other crops.

MUNITIONS:
Need Great Quantities

Gigantic battles are in prospect and equally gigantic quantities of materials will be needed to achieve the victory, but the U. S. and Canada are equal to the task of supplying the Allied forces, Donald Nelson said in an address to the Canadian club.

Since the outbreak of the war, Nelson said, the two countries have turned out 115,000 airplanes, and before the end of the year, our capacity will be 112,000 annually.

More than 175,000 large caliber guns have been made, he continued, and more than 1,500,000 machine guns and 6,000,000 rifles have been produced. About 25 billion rounds of small arms ammunition—1,500 bullets to each Axis soldier—have been manufactured.

Close to 6,000 tanks, more than 1,600,000 trucks and nearly 70,000 scout and combat cars have rolled off the assembly line of the two nations, Nelson revealed. About 20 million tons of merchant shipping have left the ways, and production has now reached the rate of 22 million tons annually.

MEDITERRANEAN:
Europe Tense

Allied air action at both ends of the Mediterranean and large concentrations of Allied shipping in North Africa have heightened the tension in the Axis' European fortress.

The Germans were chiefly concerned with Allied activity in the Near East. They interpreted frequent flights of Allied bombers and reconnaissance planes over the Aegean islands as preparation for a big push against the Grecian mainland. American fliers have raided Axis air bases near Athens, and British Commandos landed on the main Aegean island of Crete to probe enemy defenses and strike at an airfield.

In North Africa, the Allies were said to have massed over 1,000,000 tons of shipping, heavily shepherded by battleships, cruisers and aircraft carriers. Hundreds of Allied planes have been assembled for attack.

American and British bombers continued to pound Sicilian airdromes. Appearance of Axis fighter planes in force indicates that the enemy intends to challenge the Allies' occupation of Italy's neighboring islands.

Farm Topics

Time of Cutting Hay Determines Food Value

Early-Cut Hay Has More Protein Content

High quality hay is more important than ever with the acute feed shortage farmers are facing this year. The time of hay cutting is one of the most important decisions a dairyman will have to make concerning his hay crop this year. Research in Missouri has shown that timothy, for example, has 135 pounds of total protein per acre if cut when coming into bloom, whereas if cut when the seed is in the dough, it contains only 92 pounds of protein per acre. The same general tendency in favor of early cutting is as true of alfalfa and the clovers as it is with timothy.

Besides having higher feeding value, early-cut hay is more palatable, so cows eat more of it. Furthermore, since early-cut hay has a higher proportion of leaves to stems than late cut hay, there is less waste in feeding. Cows often refuse the stemy stuff they are sometimes offered. An additional advantage of early cutting is that the sod produces a more vigorous renewal growth which can be quite useful in late summer.

Dairy and crop specialists believe that the hay should be cut in the stages indicated as follows: Timothy, after heading but before blooming; red and alsike clover, half to three-fourths full bloom; alfalfa, first cutting, quarter bloom; alfalfa, last cutting, before September 15 in northern states.

Dead Animals

Even the horse struck by lightning near the pasture fence or the cattle that die from disease have some commercial value. Rather than bury them on the farm in shallow trenches or washed-out gullies covered with brush, the farmer can get rid of this nuisance by merely telephoning the rendering plant to send a truck. Usually there is little or nothing paid, unless the animal's hide has value.

Once in the rendering plant, the dead animal is converted into a dozen commercial products that have found a market within the last 20 years. The hide may be salable either for leather or the hair or wool that can be scraped from it. Flesh is cooked to expel fats and greases which go into soap, axle grease and other inedible tallow products.

The problem of disposing of dead animals is not confined to the farm. In a city the size of Columbus, Ohio, (300,000) about 2,800 dead animals must be disposed of yearly, including horses, cows, dogs and cats. Care of this refuse is handled by the city rendering plant which disposes of garbage and sells all possible by-products in order to cover the cost of the service. After the water and grease is pressed out, the solid part is dried, ground and added to selected garbage and sold for feed for livestock.

Choose Breeders Early

Selection of 1944 poultry breeding stock should be started early. Chickens for broiling, frying and roasting are of better quality and can be produced cheaper when they come from good breeding stock, and some characteristics show up only when birds are young.

Males of the heavy breeds should show tail feathers at 12 days of age and complete back feathering at eight weeks to be worthy of being retained as breeders.

Pot Holders Made Of Brightest Prints

THESE pot holders proved to be "best sellers" at a bazaar. They were made by a group of women who resolved not to produce a single holder in a dull color combination. That is probably the secret of their success.

Most of the materials came from scrap bags but a few pennies were spent for bias bindings and backing to accent tones in the wide assortment of prints. Pieces of cotton flannel or sheet wadding were used for interlining. The material was cut six inches square and the corners rounded so that the machine binder could be used for the edges. The backing, interlining and top were basted together before quilting them by stitching across from side to side and then from corner to corner. A loop hanger was stitched in with the binding.

SMOKES and the SOLDIER

Is it true that a soldier is always hungry?

Yes—up to a point. But the Quartermaster Department has found that some soldiers, particularly new recruits, actually don't eat enough.

The Army mess table is exactly like a football team's training table. The food served there is carefully planned to aid in the physical development of the soldier. And the Army has discovered certain little ways to increase Johnny Doughboy's appetite.

The Army has found it can add to a soldier's enjoyment of his food—and therefore increase his consumption of all those carefully prepared vitamins, minerals, and proteins—if he is allowed to smoke during meals. Measured tests run by the Quartermaster's Department show that food consumption actually increased by 5% when soldiers were permitted to smoke cigarettes at the mess table.

"Smokes," of course, play a prominent part in many phases of the life of a soldier. Whenever you see a news photo of soldiers at ease, you're apt to see them enjoying a cigarette. Particularly among American troops overseas, cigarettes—real American cigarettes—are highly prized and almost never present in sufficient quantities.

What kind of cigarettes do Uncle Sam's fighting men prefer? Well, records show that the favorite cigarette is Camel. That is true not only with men in the Army, but with Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen as well. Sales records from the service men's own stores—Post Exchange, Sales Commissaries, Ship's Service Stores, Ship's Stores, and Canteens—show that Camels are first with men in all branches of the service.

Further proof that Uncle Sam's fighting men like their smokes is given in the service man's preference in gifts from home—it's a carton of his favorite brand of cigarettes. Tobacco dealers, recognizing that Camels are the favorite among service men, are equipped to help you in properly wrapping, addressing, and stamping your gift of Camels to the man in the service.—Adv.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

At a Navy yard, 3000 workers travel daily 60 to 85 miles round trip by automobile—a good reason why war workers must have tires.

Tire users now restricted because of the rubber shortage will have de luxe road traveling conditions open to them in post-war days if State and Federal highway plans materialize. Already twelve States have approved building express highways of tomorrow when peace comes. Seven others are considering such plans.

A truck tire that is overloaded 50 per cent will only deliver 44.5 per cent of its mileage expectancy.

MIKE CONNER FIRST TO HELP OLD PEOPLE

Favors Increased Assistance To Decent Level

"Thirty dollars per month is not too much money for the state to grant its old people, blind, crippled and helpless. Mike Conner, candidate for governor, told Mississippi voters during the past week.

State assistance for the aged, which was first granted by Mike Conner's administration in 1935, is at present "very inadequate," the candidate said. He explained that his administration made the first appropriation as large as possible under depression conditions, but added that with better times at present, state assistance to the helpless should and must be increased.

MIKE CONNER

"Let those who would criticize (the amount granted by Conner) remember we were in the depths of the depression then," he said. "Let them not forget that when we took charge the state had neither money nor credit, and could not buy food for the inmates of the asylums, or pay the actual operating expenses of the state government; that millions of dollars of state warrants were in default and state bonds could not be sold at any price. In fairness, let them remember that no other administration even in flush times had given one penny of state aid to these unfortunate people. Surely, a little was that much better than nothing.

"If I am elected governor I shall do everything in my power, in cooperation with the federal government, to increase the assistance to the old people, the blind, and the others to a decent level. No honest man can do or will promise to do more. The cruelest demagogue of them all is the candidate who would steal the votes of these helpless and unfortunate people by absurd promises which he cannot fulfill. As governor, I led the fight for them."

Mr. Conner, pointing to the record he made during his depression administration, said a critical period would face the state following the war, and said citizens should demand that tax money be spent wisely.

"Some politicians are using the present surplus (money) as a basis for absurd promises to every bloc, group and class," he charged. "They promise it to every one over and over many times, as though it were inexhaustible. We have been more than ten years building this surplus. It does not occur annually. It can be spent only once. We know much of it has resulted from the war boom. What of the days after the war?

"We can carry the load (taxes) in Mississippi only if we devise a modern scientifically balanced revenue system to provide sufficient governmental income. The revenue system must equitably distribute the tax burden according to ability to pay and benefits derived. We must have an honest and efficient expenditure of tax money and an economical, businesslike operation of administrative machinery of the state government. This is the hope of the old people, the sick, the poor, the school teachers and all other citizens who receive benefits from the state or pay taxes to it. Otherwise, property will be confiscated, opportunities for employment destroyed, and the people rendered unhappy."

Mr. Conner said his plan to increase state assistance to the aged and helpless had been approved by hundreds of letters from pioneer state citizens.

Destruction By Air—The Mosquito

Germany and Nazi-controlled Europe have felt the stunning impact of air attack. In this community we, too, face a nightly attack, not by dive bombers but by a silent enemy—the attack of the "Quad"—Anopheles Quadrimaculatus—a mosquito which carries malaria. Her infective power has struck down whole races of men.

In our own county, these mosquitoes come up every year out of pools and swamps and spread death, misery and disaster. Flying from dusk to dawn, "Madam Quad" attacks men, women and children resting or sleeping after the day's work.

We have plenty of mosquitoes in our county. But only this one—and the female of the species at that—carries malaria. The malaria mosquito can be recognized by its spotted wings and by the tipped-up position of its body when resting. Males have large feathery antannae or feelers; they live on the juices of fruits and plants and never sucks blood. But "lady quad" is equipped with biting apparatus like a bundle of drills or saws. Her use of it is deliberate—and deadly.

Where does the Quad get malaria? She bites into a diseased person and sucks p with the blood the tiny malaria parasites. Then the Quad bites a well person. The parasites make their way out of the blood of the mosquito into the blood of the person bitten. They multiply rapadily in the blood and another person is infected. Without this insect—the central link in a vicious chan—man - to mosquito - to man—there is no chance of spreading this disease.

Every fresh case of malaria in a community means that the community strength has dropped another notch--and there were 79 cases reported in Grenada county for June. We know that military, naval and industrial forces need men kept up to their maximum strength. Ke know that farms, mills and factories must produce at peak capacity. But we know men and women in malaria-infested regions cannot fight, work long hours, or raise or harvest bumper crops if malaria owns them. People sick with malaria have neither the capacity nor the inclination for work. "Chills and fever, impoverished blood, and damaged organs—depleted vitality lay them low.

We have this problem, btu the solution is clear. Without the mosquito we should have no malaria. It's up to us to get rid of Anopheles Quadrimaculatus or mosquito-proof the home. It's up to us to keep her away from the sick and the well. Only by so doing can we break this vicious chain of malaria perpetuation.

The Grenada County Health Department in cooperation with the U. S. Public Health Service, is conducting a Malaria Education Program. Every citizen will do himself and his community a valuable service by rallying to the support of this program.

MISSISSIPPI HOME OWNERS KNOW THE TRUTH

I'M VOTING FOR MIKE CONNER BECAUSE HE GAVE MISSISSIPPI HOME OWNERS THEIR FIRST HOMESTEAD TAX EXEMPTION WHEN HE WAS GOVERNOR FROM 1932 TO 1936.
SURE MIKE DID AND WHEN HE'S ELECTED GOVERNOR THIS TIME HE'LL MAKE SURE OUR STATE TAXES ARE FURTHER REDUCED TO HELP US MEET GREATLY INCREASED FEDERAL TAXES.
WHEN MIKE SAYS HE WILL YOU CAN DEPEND ON IT!
VOTE FOR MIKE

The Conner Administration (1932-1936) not only inaugurated homestead tax exemption but exempted farmers' cattle, horses, mules, hogs, plows, farming equipment and household goods from all taxes and reduced the state property tax from 8 to 4 mills.

MIKE CONNER says, "To fight this war, the Federal Government has had to expend vast sums of money and the end is not yet in sight. Staggering burdens of federal taxes will be upon the American people for many generations. If the costs of all state and local governments are not reduced, our economic life will be destroyed, and we and our children will be enslaved. There must be tax relief. Therefore, now, as never before, must we have honest, efficient, economical administration of governmental affairs. We must struggle heroically to provide enough money to meet federal taxes and to carry on the necessary functions of local government. We cannot do this and at the same time furnish money with which our public officials may play politics, reward their friends and build political machines. We cannot provide enough money to serve the people and to serve the politicians too. Neither can we afford to pay for the mistakes, though they may be honest, of incompetent, inefficient public officials."
